Comments from the Former CEO, Mr. Sherif El Zayat

I'm proud of EKH's performance in 2023 during which we have succeeded in expanding our operations across our diversified business while maintaining our levels of profitability, with a gross profit margin of 45%, an EBITDA margin of 45%, and a net income margin of 27%. This comes despite the global headwinds and challenging local macroeconomic environment.

In the Fertilizers and Petrochemicals segment, we delivered on Sprea's expansion plans, including the inauguration of new formica sheets capacities, effectively doubling production to six million sheets annually. Additionally, we launched our fourth SNF factory, aligning with our strategic growth objectives, and we recently inaugurated a state-of-the-art sulfuric acid production facility, tapping a lucrative new market and contributing to feedstock for various products within the Group's portfolio, thereby furthering our integration drive. Meanwhile at AlexFert, we further strengthened our position by acquiring minority stakes, with EKH increasing its ownership to 75.33% and contributing to enhanced USD-denominated revenues.

In the Energy and Energy-Related segment, NatEnergy's subsidiaries have consistently expanded installations while ensuring profitability, and playing a pivotal role in the nation's natural gas distribution grid. To date, NatGas and FayumGas have successfully connected over two million households, and our plans include adding an estimated 150,000 households annually over the next five years. Meanwhile at Kahraba, NatEnergy's power distribution and generation subsidiary, successive investments over the years have increased our power generation capacity to 135 MW, while on the distribution front we have already passed 350 MW as of 2024, with plans for further expansion to 645 MW by 2030. This expansion is propelled by the new concession awarded in 2022 for the 10th of Ramadan South Industrial Developers Zone, as well as by winning the tender issued by Centamin for the construction of a 50MW onsite substation and high-voltage power distribution lines for the Sukari Gold Mine.

At ONS, we maintain efficient reserve management through a strategic development plan that optimizes production and extends well-life. Notably, we successfully expanded the concession area by 140 km2, reaching a total of over 440 km2 earlier in the year. In During 2023a capex of USD 35 million was deployed for Phase-3B, involving the drilling of two wells (ATON1 + KSE2) in the new extension area through two WH platforms. These wells are connected to the existing facility via a 21 km flowline, ensuring continued operational success.

Our Diversified segment also demonstrated outstanding performance. Notably, the robust performance of Delta Insurance and Mohandes Insurance despite the challenging operating environment. Additionally, I want to emphasize the commendable performance of Bedyati, our microfinance subsidiary, which has consistently achieved a strong bottom line since its establishment just last year and delivered solid returns on our investment

Finally, I am pleased to announce that the Nile Wood production facility is on track to commence operations in 2024. The joint venture with the renowned German MDF producer Homann Holzwerkstoffe GmbH additionally enhances our strategic positioning.

As I reflect on my incredible journey at EKH, I am immensely proud of the success we've achieved. Leading this exceptional team has been both an honor and a privilege, and I want to express my deepest gratitude to the entire team who contributed to our collective achievements. I am delighted to hand over the baton at a time when EKH stands strong, a testament to the hard work, dedication, and resilience of everyone involved. I am confident that Jon Rokk, our incoming CEO, is the right leader to continue steering EKH towards even greater heights. His vision, skills, and commitment align seamlessly with the values that have brought us success. I have full confidence in Jon's ability to guide EKH through its next chapter of growth.

EKH's Fertilizers and Petrochemicals segment reported revenues of USD 424.3 million in FY23, down 38% on account of a 45% decline in AlexFert's revenues as well as a 20% decrease in Sprea Misr. Revenues at AlexFert reflect the normalization of urea prices in comparison to the peaks reached in 2021 and early 2022 as well as the impact of the 23-day shutdown witnessed at the company as part of its bi-annual overhaul. Meanwhile, Sprea Misr's performance was impacted by currency devaluation when translating the company's financials from EGP to USD. On the profitability front, the segment posted a gross profit margin of 41%, and an EBITDA margin of 46%, a four percentage-point drop from FY22 weighed down by the impact of normalizing urea prices on AlexFert's operating margins, and offsetting a thirteen percentage points improvement in Sprea Misr's gross profit margin. Attributable net profit from the segment amounted to 138.2 million in FY23.

Similarly, the segments' performance in 4Q23 saw revenue decline by 31% on account of normalizing urea prices and the currency translation effect on Sprea Misr's financials. However, on a quarter-o-quarter basis the segment recorded a 13% increase in revenue reflecting the gradual improvement of urea export prices witnessed at AlexFert since 2Q23. On the profitability front, the segment recorded a two percentage-point increase in gross profit margin reaching 38% in 4Q23 compared to 36% in 3Q23, while EBITDA margin increased by 10 percentage points on a q-o-q basis to 51% in 4Q23. Net profit margin increased by five percentage points on a q-o-q basis to 38% in 4Q23.

AlexFert's performance in FY23 has stabilized following the elevated urea prices seen in the aftermath of the Ukraine war. Urea prices averaged USD 381 per ton in 2023, a notable decrease from the higher average of USD 698 per ton in 2022, and peaks of USD 1,000 per ton immediately after the war. Profitability has also adjusted to levels slightly above pre-war averages, with gross profit margin posting 39%, EBITDA margin of 45%, and a net income margin of 36% during FY23. AlexFert reported an attributable net income of USD 67.9 million in FY23.

In 4Q23, AlexFert posted revenues of USD 72.1 million, marking a significant 22% q-o-q increase. This growth was supported by the gradual improvement in urea export prices versus the volatility witnessed in the beginning of the year, as well as benefiting from higher local pricing. Gross profit margin for the quarter reached 41%, a two percentage-point increase from 3Q23, while EBITDA increased one percentage-point to 48% during 4Q23. Net profit margin came in at 43% during 4Q23, marking a seven percentage-point increase from 3Q23. AlexFert's attributable net income for the quarter reached USD 23.5 million in 4Q23, representing a notable 64% q-o-q increase compared to USD 14.3 million booked in 3Q23.

Sprea Misr's revenues reached USD 160.5 million in FY23, reflecting a 23% decline compared to the last year, primarily attributed to the devaluation of the EGP by 59.2% year-on-year and its impact when translating the company's financials from EGP into USD. Reporting in EGP, revenues increased by 26% year-on-year increase, reflecting Sprea's continuously expanding and increasingly diversified product portfolio, affording it resilience in the face of challenging market conditions. The company had recently inaugurated a new sulfuric acid production facility and had expanded its formica sheet factory, doubling annual capacity to six million sheets. Said expansions played a pivotal role in mitigating the challenges encountered in the local SNF market, where reduced demand for ready-mix cement stemming from the suspension of national projects and a temporary halt in building license issuance, contributed to lower SNF volumes. Additionally, SNF prices faced downward pressure as competitors bypassed anti-dumping laws. Nevertheless, Sprea's profitability margins improved, with the gross profit margin reaching 44% in FY23, marking a thirteen percentage-point increase from FY22. It is worth noting that the expansion is gross profitability in FY23 partly reflects a low base effect during the previous year, particularly in 4Q22 where the company witnessed delayed pass-through of rising costs associated with the EGP depreciation. Similarly, EBITDA margin experienced a sixteen percentage-point growth to 44% in FY23, partly carried down from GPM expansion along with the impact of one-time startup costs related to the company's new sulfuric acid factory incurred during the previous year. EBITDA margin expansion also comes despite a USD 13.7 million FX loss in FY23 vs. a USD 1.9 million FX gain in the previous year. Sprea's net profit margin increased by eighteen percentage-points, closing the year at 44% in FY23. EKH's net attributable net income amounted to USD 70.3 million in FY23.

Sprea Misr reported quarterly revenues of USD 33.2 million in 4Q23, reflecting a 2% decline q-o-q. Sprea's profitability levels in 4Q23 remained flat versus the previous quarter, with gross profit margin recording 32%. EBITDA margin stood at 42%, while net profit margin reached 28% in 4Q23. Sprea recorded an attributable net income of USD 9.2 million in 4Q23.
